U.S. Moves To Curb Giveaway Programs

FCC Says New Rules Affect Them

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today moved to throw most of radio's prize giveaway programs off the air waves and broadcasting interests promptly announced a fight.

The commission announced adoption of new rules, to be effective October 1, designed to end most of the big money and merchandise offers, currently running to more than $3,500,000 a year.

It acted under the anti-lottery statutes, forbidding use of radio to promote games of chance.

American Broadcasting Co., whose Sunday night "Stop The Music" broadcast runs into important dough weekly, retorted quickly that it will take the matter to court, challenging FCC's right to act against the programs.

"No changes will be made in the ABC programs as a result of the FCC regulation," the network asserted.

ABC plans to ask an injunction against the rules, presumably in the U. S. court of appeals for the District of Columbia, which review appeals from orders of government agencies.

Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said he hoped the matter would get a quick court test.

Miller said the NASB felt the commission had overstepped its authority in view of the law prohibiting the commission from enjoining program content. He said programs which FCC seeks to classify as lotteries "are not in fact illegal."

Similar comment came from other sources in the industry.

The FCC said it would refuse renewal of license to stations if they follow a policy of broadcasting programs which it regards as violating the lottery prohibition.

A radio lottery, the FCC announcement said, is generally one involving a prize awarded as a result of lot or chance, where the contestant contributes something of value, or is required to be listening to or viewing the program over a receiver.

Radio folk said this appeared to be broad enough to cover nearly all prize programs on the air, with the possible exception of those in which prizes are given only to members of the studio audience.

Woods May Call For Volunteers To Police Rent Curbs

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said today he may call for citizen volunteers to police rent controls in some places. But ceilings still will be lifted, he emphasized, in more than one-third of the areas across the nation.

The rent director stood by a previous statement that widespread decontrols must be made because Congress is cutting his funds. Just where ceilings will be lifted—and how soon the actions will begin—remained to be seen.

Woods said many problems must be solved before the now-muddled picture can be clarified.

For one thing, the rent boss said, the existing federal rent act specifies certain conditions which must be met before controls may be lifted.

British Plane Crashes Into Hillside; 24 Die

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 19.—(AP)—A twin-engine British airliner hit a hillside near here in misty weather today and the British European Airways said 24 of the 32 persons aboard were killed.

BEA, owner of the plane, said in London 22 persons were killed outright and two others died later.

The company said the dead included 11 women passengers, four children, six men passengers and three crewmen.

The company, which is government owned, said eight survivors are being treated at Oldham Infirmary in the vicinity of the wreck, 13 miles northeast of Manchester.

BEA said all aboard the plane were British except two from northern Ireland.

The airliner, a Dakota (C47), was en route from Belfast, northern Ireland, to Manchester. It struck 10 feet from the top of a 1,300-foot hill.

An hour later a light plane crashed while being tested at Balldon, in Yorkshire, and killed all four occupants.

BEA officials in London said the last signal from the transport reported it was making a normal possible approach to the Manchester airport radio beam.

Factory workers and farmers at Mary Hitchcock hospital in nearby Haverhill, where the injured were taken, authorities said no one was critically hurt. The injuries were mostly bruises and some fractures.

Grafton County Solicitor Robert A. Jones said he was investigating an eyewitness story that the airplane's slip opened the switch and brought the railroad's Montreal-bound Ambassador into a siding where the southbound Ambassador was waiting to pass on the single track.

Leon Barnum, a U. S. mail carrier who meets the northbound Ambassador daily as it passes through this town, provided the account of how the collision occurred.

Barnum said he was 20 feet away from the switch at the south end of the siding when he saw an unidentified brakeman run forward from the waiting southbound train.

"The fireman on the southbound yelled at him but the northbound train was making so much noise he couldn't make himself heard," Barnum said. "The brakeman ran forward and threw the switch, and the northbound train just ploughed into the other one. It all happened in a twinkling."

Shirley France Resumes Training

Dover, Eng., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Shirley France came back to Dover today to resume training and pray the weather will turn calm enough for her to swim the English channel next week.

The channel steamer Maid of Orleans brought the 17-year-old schoolgirl from Somerset, Mass., and her trainer and chaperone over from Calais where they waited in vain for the choppy waves to subside and the water to warm up.

Aviatix Completes Globe Girdling In Year And Day

London, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Richarda (Dicki) Morrow-Tait, a red-haired ex-artist's model and mother, completed her single-engine plane ride around the world early this evening.

It took her a year and a day to fly the long way from London back to London—23,000 miles—but she is the first woman to fly the globe at the controls of an airplane.

The 26-year-old aviatrix set down at 6:40 p.m. GMT (12:40 p.m. C.S.T.) with her navigator, Michael Townsend, 25, of Cambridge.

Her husband, Norman Morrow-Tait, an engineer living in Cambridge and doing the dishes and baby-sitting these last 265 days, rushed to Croydon airport to greet her. He took along their daughter Anna, now nearly three years old.

Richarda phoned him from Prestwick, Scotland, where she had landed to gas up after the over-water hop from Reykjavik, Iceland, earlier in the day.

Only a few people were at Croydon to greet the pretty flier when she ended the last three-hour leg.

Wearing a red plaid shirt, brown slacks and black flying boots, she jumped out of the cockpit into the arms of her husband and Anna.

Morrow-Tait kissed her fervently. When she made a motion of protest to sit up, he said "damn the lipstick."

Richarda then picked up her little girl who was scared by the propeller noise and was sobbing.

The aviatrix looked tired but was full of plans to keep on flying. She told reporters at Croydon she is going to join the woman's arm of the Royal Air Force.

Air Force Officer Finds 'Prototype Of Flying Saucer'

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Baltimore Sun tonight quoted an air force officer as saying that two battered old aircraft found near here are "definitely the prototype of the flying saucer."

The Sun quoted the air force official as saying that he believed greatly improved models of the two planes found in an abandoned barn are flying now, and are the source of the flying saucer reports of two years ago.

State police found the old machines, now largely a collection of junk, in the barn near Glen Burnie, about 11 miles south of Baltimore.

Their inventor, Johnathan E. Caldwell, dropped out of sight about 1941.

The official declined the use of his name, the Sun said, but declared air force authorities had given him permission to make a statement concerning the Glen Burnie discovery.

The officer explained that the air forces use the term "prototype" to denote the first model from which an airplane develops. The Sun then went on to quote him as saying: "I personally think the inventor went to some other part of the country and the two—or someone else—developed new planes, along these lines and is seeding them up."

Negotiators Call On Washington To End Hawaii Strike

Honolulu, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Negotiators suspended peace talks today in Hawaii's 111-day dock strike and called on Washington for help.

The union and employer representatives sent off a message to Cyrus Ching, head of the U. S. mediation and conciliation service.

They asked Ching to come to Honolulu "as quickly as possible." Ching has indicated he may be unable to come here because of the press of other duties.

The renewed peace talks, which began only three days ago, went into recess pending a reply from Ching. At a meeting today, Harry Bridges, president of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, told employers the strikers would settle for a raise of less than 26 cents an hour. Neither he nor the employer negotiators would name a figure, however.

The 2,000 CIO stevedores struck May 1, demanding a 33-cent raise in the $1.40 hourly wage. Employers once reluctantly offered a 14-cent raise but withdrew it when the union rejected it.

TRUMAN LEAVES FOR WEEK END CRUISE

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—President Truman left this afternoon for a week end cruise on the Potomac river aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg.

The White House said Mr. Truman was accompanied by Rear Admiral Robert L. Denison, his naval aide, and a few unidentified "close friends."

Chicago's 'Greatest Gun Battle' Kills 1, Hurts 10

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(AP)—In the smoky glare of floodlights, the bullet-riddled body of a crazed negro gunman was hauled from a narrow alleyway between two buildings early today. It marked the end of Chicago's "greatest gun battle."

The Negro, Ernest Craig, 26, went on the shooting spree when police tried to arrest him for shooting a child. He held off more than 200 policemen in a flaming, three-hour siege until finally driven from his barricaded home by fire and tear gas. A fusillade of police bullets cut him down.

The toll was one dead and 10 injured, including eight policemen. Five officers and a woman spectator were shot. Two officers were burned in the eyes by tear gas and another's arm was cut by shattered window glass. The negro's home was burned out by fire.

Thousands of spectators, who dodged behind cars and in and out of basements, watched the spectacular battle in the west side negro district. Nearly 1,000 rounds of ammunition and 200 tear gas bombs and flares were used.

Police commissioner John C. Prendergast, who narrowly escaped after being trapped in a vicious cross-fire, called it the "greatest and toughest" gun battle in his 43 years on the force.

Police said Craig took a shot last night at Lawrence Mack, 17, a negro neighbor he had hired to redecorate his home. He accused Mack of stealing one of his pistols. However, the shot went wide, the bullet slightly wounding Drake Atkins, 2 year old negro child.

When detectives went to Craig's home at 2533 Washington boulevard, he fired at them and missed. Some 40 squads of reserves were called in and the siege was on.

Craig, armed with two pistols, ran wildly from the front to rear of his home, firing from the windows. Police poured a steady fire into the windows from machine guns, rifles and pistols. They dumped in tear gas, but Craig held out.

Finally a flare was tossed. It set the house on fire, but Craig continued shooting. A second fire broke out inside as firemen arrived with equipment.

Craig continued his pot-shots and police laid down a curtain of fire so firemen could trim their hoses through the windows. The scene took on the aspects of a Hollywood thriller when a fire department light wagon arrived and fixed its searchlights and floodlights on the house.

Prendergast, firing a pistol, was in on the finish when Craig dropped into the alleyway between houses a few minutes later and tried to flee. Craig was killed instantly, hit by nearly 20 bullets.

Only one bystander, Mrs. Mary Sparks, 21, a typist, was wounded. She was grazed by a bullet. Prendergast said it was a "bullet" that no more spectators were hurt.

None of the policemen was wounded seriously.

Says Indifference Of People Killed Margaret Mitchell

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The traffic death of author Margaret Mitchell was described by a safety leader today as a killing "by mass indifference of the public which loved her."

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, declared in an editorial for Public Safety, the council's monthly traffic magazine.

"The driver who struck and killed Miss Mitchell had a record of 22 previous traffic violations—many of them serious. Yet he was still driving a car on the streets of Atlanta."

"What's more, drivers like him are driving cars right this minute all over the country—drivers whose records stamp them as potential killers."

"Why? Because the public just doesn't care."

"It's time we quarantined traffic killers just as we quarantine disease carriers. But we won't do it until the public wakes up and demands it."

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 19.—(AP)—At an age when most girls worry about their first sweethearts, 16-year-old Mrs. Barbara Harper sat in jail today charged with murdering her second husband.

Police took the young expectant mother into custody after Davis Harper, 29-year-old steelworker, died in a hospital last night. Harper was shot through the neck during a bitter domestic quarrel Wednesday night.

Her mother, Mrs. Maude Raynor, said Mrs. Harper was married for the first time when she was 13. She was divorced and then married Harper two years ago.

Boyd Praises Life Saving Work Done In Coal Mine Fire

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Director James Boyd of the Bureau of Mines said today the escape of all 237 men from a fire in a Peabody Coal Co. mine near Springfield, Ill., last Monday was "an outstanding example in life saving."

Boyd said the mass rescue showed "how lives can be saved by intelligent planning of mine development and rescue operations and by the intelligent and orderly conduct of men when disaster threatens."

He made his comments in a preliminary report to Secretary of the Interior Krug.

Boyd said that when the men were notified by telephone that collision or cars had started a fire, 62 escaped to the surface through the main heading shaft.

Of the other 135 were hoisted to safety, three at a time, from a recently completed intake air and escapeway shaft.

"This shaft had been provided by the management in its efforts to cooperate with state and federal authorities to improve the ventilation of the mine and to provide an additional escapeway," Boyd said.

Girl, 16, Jailed For Murdering Her Second Husband

Peru Tells Cuban Embassy To Close, Recalls Minister

Lima, Peru, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Peru today broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Peru and Cuba have exchanged a series of notes in connection with the recent escape of two members of the outlawed Peruvian Agrista party from the Cuban embassy here, where they took refuge several months ago. The two party members, Fernando Leon De Vivero and Pedro Muniz, arrived in Havana yesterday.

Early tonight an official from the Peruvian foreign office called at the Cuban embassy and handed Alberto Espinoza, Cuban charge d'affaires, his passport. At the same time the foreign office directed the Peruvian charge in Havana to ask for his passport and return to Lima.

The decision to break off relations with Havana apparently was made at today's session of the foreign affairs consultative commission.

Finns Crack Down On Red Strike Offensive

Heilsinki, Finland, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Communist leaders were arrested today in a speedy government crackdown on a nationwide strike offensive which flared into violence yesterday.

A government spokesman has declared the wave of strikes is a planned communist maneuver to seize power and establish a Red government in Helsinki.

The government, its army alerted, took fast action after the first blood was spilled yesterday in Helsinki, where one man was killed and nine were injured.

The country's central trade union federation also swung into action, issuing an ultimatum to the communist-led unions ordering them to cancel their strike call. It threatened to split the federation wide open.

By a vote of eight to five, the federation's executive committee decided to order four striking unions to call off their warhounds before Aug. 23 or suffer expulsion from the federation.

This move was directed against the following unions: coppers; food workers; building and construction workers; and the forestry workers' and loggers' union. The federation made it plain that the teachers, leather, shoe and rubber workers' unions, who have scheduled strikes, also would be expelled if current strikes are not called off.

Finland troops were rushed to Helsinki, in northern Finland, yesterday after police and an estimated 1,500 lumberjacks fought a brief pitched battle at a lumber-coring dam. An exchange of pistol shots echoed through the forest town. When strikers continued hurling stones, the police used tear-gas bombs and blackjacks to disperse them. The tight breeze cut when lumberjacks smashed through police lines trying to attack workers who were reporting for duty.

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill.) said today he doesn't want to see "dollar imperialism" result abroad from President Truman's proposal to aid underdeveloped world areas.

O'Hara told Undersecretary of State James E. Webb he is opposed to any situation arising such as sending marines to Nicaragua to protect American developments in that country. He suggested to the state department that assurances should be given against such a situation.

This development came as Webb urged the House banking committee to approve a bill authorizing United States government security for private investments abroad. Such investments would aim at helping the people of underdeveloped areas of the world to increase their productivity and living standards.

Webb said this would be another means of discouraging the growth of communism.

Federal Agencies Get Reshuffling In Revamping Plan

Washington, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Federal agencies get a mild reshuffling at midnight tonight when six of President Truman's reorganization plans go into effect. About 2,300 government employees are affected.

Citizens at Saturday breakfast tables can chalk up the following things that happened in their government overnight:

The U. S. Employment service moved back into the labor department. It was the fifth transfer for the employment unit in 10 years. Labor department officials were jubilantly celebrating their new strength. (One party in the department this week reportedly lasted until 4 a.m.)

The post office department, civil service commission, and maritime commission were revamped with the aim of greater efficiency. In each case more administrative power was centered in a single official.

The $500,000,000-a-year bureau of public roads, headed by Thomas H. MacDonald, became a part of the commerce department.

"I SHALL NOT RETURN"

Congress is now engaged in one of its periodic efforts to bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur home from overseas.Numerous tries have been made in the years since World War II ended, but always without success. Each time MacArthur has said "No," declaring that his duties will not permit him to leave his post.Last year the pressure on him was heavy. It came from his backers in Congress who believed his presence at home might start a stampede for him at the Republican National Convention. Though his hat was in the ring, the general stayed in Tokyo.Now members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee want the general home for questioning on future
American policy in China.He's been asked to return for that very reason before.
He answered then that others were better qualified than he on the Chinese issue.Once more he has answered "No." So unless Defense Secretary Johnson orders him home, General MacArthur will stay right in Tokyo.It's hard to see why the general is so thoroughly wedded to his post as Allied commander in Japan. General
Clay, for a long time MacArthur's counterpart in occupied Germany, came home many times during his tenure.If it weren't for that famous hat encrusted with gold trim, one might almost think the general had grown shy.

SNORKEL CHASER—Above is an artist's sketch of the Navy's new giant blimp being built by the Goodyear Aircraft Corp. at Akron, O. Designed as the largest nonrigid airship ever built, the blimp's greatest value will be in long-range ocean patrols. It can hover over a given spot almost indefinitely in search of the underwater-breathing snorkel submarines. Vital statistics on the airship are included in boxes above. The blimp will be able to refuel in flight by dropping a fuel line to a surface ship. It will be ballast by scooping up ocean water. Inflated with non-inflammable helium, the air giant will be equipped with an electrically-operated winch for air-sea rescue work.

Shed A Tear For Brooklyn

BY ED CRAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Poor old Brooklyn. Nobody loves her.

Except, of course, her 2,910,000 sons and daughters.

And sometimes you can't help wondering about them.

Everybody who doesn't live in Brooklyn laughs at the old girl. And nobody knows why. It's one of those curious facts of life—say "Brooklyn" out loud and people guffaw.

This, by darn, is not fair.

Not a Funny Place

Brooklyn is not a funny place. It is a sad place. Consider its melancholy rows of brick houses, its shivering weeping little alleys.

Tree Grows In Brooklyn shrubs. It can't be just my imagination that the whole on the Brighton Parkway drifts readily into a minor key when the point of no return is reached on the voyage from Manhattan.

And there's no sadder sound in all the world than the keening at Ebbets Field when the Dodgers bout.

You can say many nice things about Brooklyn. It's New York's poorest, the world's largest slum, the world's biggest slum.

See what I mean about Brooklyn?

Philadelphia, Los Angeles or Detroit. It's the borough of churches, of homes.

Brooklyn is still a sad place.

Too Hard A Time

What I think I'm trying to say is that Brooklyn gives its citizens too hard a time. It gives them so much grief that they have to unload it on each other.

Take, for example, the story about the soda jerk. All soda jerks have a hard time, but in Brooklyn:

A little guy breezes into the soda fountain and says, "gimme a flat-bush special."

"A what?" says the soda jerk.

"You hold me," says the little guy. "So I gotta tell ya how to make it? Okay, put in three scoops ice cream—one each, chocolate, raspberry, pistachio. Sprinkle wit' powdered walnuts. Then lotta maple syrup. It's gotta be good."

"Then make wit' the whipped cream. Heavy then one layer chocolate almonds. They gotta be chopped, fine. Then crushed strawberries. Then more whipped cream. Then three cherries, then—"

"Look," screams the soda jerk. "This is Thursday—you got time to come in Saturday for a flatbush?"

See what I mean about Brooklyn?

More American Dollars Held Vital To Remedy Britain's Money Woes

By LEON DENNEN

NEA Special Correspondent London—(NEA)—Even in the view of the most ardent supporters of Labor, it is already too late to remedy the British situation without additional U. S. aid.

His Majesty's Government may soon have to go a third time to Washington to ask for more dollars. Will the American people, it is asked here, give and give again? Are they ready to embark upon a policy of a democratic Europe depends largely on a strong British hope that the United States—for its own security if for no other reason—will be generous a third time.

In order to achieve a mythical socialism, Lenin (and Stalin after him) thought little of sacrificing the Russian people. In the Soviet "experiment," the ordinary Ivan became a tiny screw in a vast totalitarian machine. But Britain was and remains one of the most democratic states of our time.

The common People count in the Labor Government is counting all concerns of those who govern them. And the British people, after a decade of austerity and belt-tightening, are physically and morally tired.

The top leaders are tired, too. The casualty list, among them is extremely high. Little new blood has been injected into the Labor Party during the past four years. Should the present leadership be forced to retire, there would be none to replace it. Wiser heads, like Herbert Morrison, Labor's brilliant Parliamentary whip, and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, foresaw the dangers of rapid over-nationalization. But they were too weak to resist the pressure of the Harold Laskis and the other "Marxists" who clamored for "socialism in our time."

Thus, England is today neither socialist nor capitalist.

The well-to-do are still able to live lavishly on their past earnings, and even on their present profits, however restricted and diminished. The middle class is being taxed out of existence. The standard of living of the workers—on whose behalf the Labor Government is counting all this trouble—has not declined. But it also has not improved much over the wartime austerity level.

Ever since the arrival in Europe of John Snyder, U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, persistent rumors are current, both in London and Paris, that the State Department is about to abandon its support of the "non-Communist Left," as represented by the Labor Government and Henri Queuille's middle-of-the-road coalition in France.

These rumors are partly attributed to a statement made by Henri Reynaud, former French Premier, following his return from Washington some weeks ago.

Well-informed diplomats doubt these rumors. The State Department, they say, is only too well aware that the death of the "Third Force" government would create a vacuum in Europe which only the Communists would be in a position to fill.

Presenting the New

Cadillac Coupe de Ville

Illustrated above is the Coupe de Ville—an ultra smart new Cadillac body type, designed for those who seek the low-swept lines and open-airiness of a convertible—combined with the comfort, convenience and safety of a closed car.

It is a classic example of modernity and practicality—one of the most desirable and most useful models ever to issue from the boards of Cadillac designers. Yet—smart and beautiful as it is—the Coupe de Ville's greatest superiority lies in the chassis on which it is built. For, like all Cadillacs, the core of its goodness is found in its performance—in the wonderful capacity of its new V-type engine; in the soft, even, restful manner in which it rolls over the highway; in the easy, effortless response to steering wheel and brakes. It is, truly, a symphony in motion.

We should be pleased indeed to give you full details about this wonderful new body type—as well as the other beautiful models which grace our showroom. Why not come in at your earliest convenience?

White Pique Issues Crisp Denial To Changing Whims Of Fashion

BY ERSIE KINARD
 NEA Fashion Editor

New York—(NEA)—Crisp white pique has its only rival for awe-inspiring freshness the nurse's uniform or the surgeon's jacket.

This explains in part why pique fills up wardrobe gaps when the midseason thermometer climbs, why pique is a woman's favorite carry-over into the next cotton-picking season.

Conservatively styled—pique has never submitted to many dressmaker fills—the jacket or dress that will see service during dog days and will reappear in wardrobes next year is apt to be a classic or semi-classic fashion.

Safe from the changing whims of fashion are the two pique styles shown. A smart but timeless two-piece suit (right) of Eisenberg's design owes its new feminine appeal to a tailored collar softened by a

Red Williamson Tells Badger Gridders That All Are Sophomores

Dean Lind Wins

That was the word today from the Badgers' new head coach, Ivan (Red) Williamson, himself the only first year man among Big Ten coaches this fall.

"They're all sophomores as far as the coaching staff is concerned," commented Wilson. "We got acquainted with some of the lettermen in Spring drills, but others didn't come out for various reasons. Until we've seen all the candidates in action, we'll rank them all on the same basis."

"It's going to be plenty rough this year," he admits. "It's a cinch we won't be as strong as many of our opponents." Last year's squad under Stuhldreher won only two of nine.

Williamson plans to install his own version of the T attack, similar to what he used at Lafayette (Pa.) college, his previous post. His main

Full workouts start Aug. 29 at Camp Randall. The Badgers meet Marquette in the traditional intrastate opener Sept. 24 and then face Illinois, California, Navy, Ohio State,

In Open Golf Meet

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Big E. J. (Dutch) Harrison ran into trouble today and dropped into a three-way tie with Floyd Bennett, pitcher of the White Sox. Randy Gumpert surrendered the first earned run by Chicago pitchers in 43 innings.

Mike Garcia, who started shutout skinn by blanking the White Sox, was charged with the loss because of last Sunday's performance.

Harrison, playing out of St. Andrews, Ill., had three three-putts in a three-way tie with Mayo Sax in the second game of last Sunday's doubleheader in Cleveland. He pitched seven and one-third innings to earn his eleventh victory, three over Chicago.

Steps to the Moon

By Adelaide Humphries

THE STORY: Gaynel Teave, expected by her mother Emily to marry Harry Rabinberg, a young millionaire. In a certain way, she found out. Although Gaynel is fond of Harry, she prefers the company of young, fun-loving Fritz. But Fritz is the brother-in-law of her family, one who would not have any problems. Fritz has no money. In fact he is a broke that he has told Gaynel that he can't take her anywhere this evening. So he takes her to his apartment. Gaynel is reluctant until Fritz says they will be well chaperoned, although he does not say by whom.

They found some cold chicken and vegetables which Gaynel fixed into quite a delectable salad. Included greens and one plump tomato.

"You know, this is quite domestic," Gaynel dimpled at him, her eyes laughing over their spread. Like everything else done with Fritz, this had been a lark. Somehow she knew she would always remember this evening, see Fritz as he looked now, his shirt opened at the neck, the sleeves rolled up. He might show disdain regarding dress, but he was enough to make any girl's eye sharpen, set her pulses to racing.

"Quite," Fritz agreed. He allowed her to lean across and strike a match to his pipe. "Though you misjudge me, gorgeous. I didn't say I hadn't the necessary tendencies for matrimony; all I lack is the tendency and treasury. All we need now, however, is for the baby to wake and squawk."

"I do hope he sleeps until we go to the dishes done," Gaynel looked anxiously, and yet resigned. "Dishes, nothing! Candy will do them in the morning."

"The lady what does by the day for this establishment." He re-buked her with husbandly fortitude. "Candeline Hild egard Jones."

"But I'll stack them," she insisted, "while you have your smoke. I wish to goodness, Henry, you wouldn't smell up my parlor with that nasty old pipe of yours." She found an apron in the kitchen.

"Fetch my slippers, Miranda, that's my good gal." He pushed back his chair, pulled up another for his feet to rest on.

GAYNEL knelt down to unlace his shoes for him. "You're the laziest, most good-for-nothing husband I ever had," she scolded severely and looked up from this compromising position on hearing a smothered chuckle from the hallway to discover a young man standing looking at them.

"Don't get up," Fritz's hand kept her from scrambling to her feet. "This please me more than I can tell you, to have Johnny come in and find a young woman on her knees to me. Come on in, Johnny, my lad. Miranda, my love, this is one of the chaperons I was telling you about."

Johnny advanced and held out his hand. Gaynel let him give her a lift. He was a friendly looking young man, bright red hair, green eyes, the map of Ireland indelibly impressed.

"There's just one bottle of beer left," Fritz said hospitably. But with Gaynel's back toward him she shook his head in a vigorous negative and motioned for Johnny to take himself off in a jiffy, or else.

paper down. "You've always got your nose buried in that old paper," she scolded. "And me slaving day-in day-out in this house. When night comes I need a little recreation. Besides, I thought you said you were in a talking mood, Henry."

She curled herself up on the studio couch, an enormous, shabby affair, heaped with a number of oddly assorted cushions. Everything in The Goat's Nest was shabby and had been chosen for durability and comfort rather than fitness. There was an ancient grand piano in one corner, but apparently it was also used for a desk, as it was loaded with books and papers, pictures and magazines.

"What will we talk about?" Fritz asked. He switched off the lamp, so that only the one near the piano was on and the shabbiness and dust merged into a rosy radiance. "Now that you've fed me so well, my love, my talkative mood has deserted me. I feel much more like a little nap."

"It's because it's so terribly close," Gaynel said. She covered a yawn with her hand. "A little nap wouldn't go badly, though, at that." She patted the place beside her, beckoning him. He stretched out, pillowing his head in her lap.

HER fingers played in his thick blond hair. She wished his eyes weren't so blue, or so disturbing. It was not much more than a moment before Fritz had closed his eyes, his breathing becoming even and steady as her hand smoothed his forehead. Her own eyelids drooped . . . she couldn't remember when she had felt so fagged out . . . such a hectic week . . . the office . . . at home, too . . . She felt her head nod . . . perhaps she dozed a short while, too—then her head came up with a jerk. She had heard something. Someone was staring at them—a strange young man.

"Fritz . . ." she shook him, tried to make him sit up, shook him, hard, again.

"Go away," Fritz murmured. Then: "Oh, excuse it . . ." He rubbed his eyes, lifted his head. (To Be Continued)

U. S. Students To Play Ibsen In Norway

Oslo (AP)—Twenty-four American colored students will perform plays by Ibsen on Norwegian stages next fall. An invitation from the Norwegian government was issued through the Norwegian embassy in Washington.

Theatrical circles in Sweden and Denmark have also shown interest in the project, the Oslo "Daily Aftenposten" said. Norwegian cultural attaché Erling Christophersen got the idea when seeing students and faculty members of Howard University in Washington, D.C. perform "The Wild Duck."

Headed by Dr. Anne Cooke, professor of dramatic art at Howard, the group expects receipts to cover expenses in Norway, and traveling expenses are taken care of partly by the Norwegian government, partly by private gifts.

The Kitten Knew Best
Chicago (AP)—During a heat wave a kitten squirmed into a narrow space between two buildings in suburban Glen Ellyn. Its cries attracted a crowd. When all else failed, a fireman extricated the cat with a hook attached to a long pole.

Two days later the kitten was back in the same trap. A policeman, using the same tool, fished it out again. But within 48 hours it was in the tight spot again. Chief of Police Lee Brierton made a personal survey of the situation. He peered in the small opening, felt a cool breeze on his face and called off rescue work. The kitten, he decided, was in the most comfortable place in the neighborhood.

35 Safe As Plane Runs Into Ocean

St. John's Nfld., Aug. 19.—Thirty-five American airmen returning from duty on the Berlin airlift escaped injury last night when a U. S. army transport plane plunged into St. George's Bay on Newfoundland's west coast.

The big airliner skidded off a rain-drenched runway at Harmon Field and wound up in the bay. Thirty-two officers and three enlisted men reached shore safely after scrambling into dinghies and life rafts.

It was originally thought the pilot was unable to land at Harmon because of bad weather conditions and that he ditched the plane in the bay shortly because it ran out of gasoline. The plane was en route from the Azores to Westover Field, Mass.

Young Victim Of Brutality

With a heavy chain around his neck, six year old James Lair is shown as he was taken to the Morgan county jail Thursday night. Sheriff Bourn cut wires that fastened the chain to permit the release of the child from his shackles. His back is reported to show numerous welts as the result of a whipping, said to have been administered with a leather strap. The boy's father has been arrested to face charges in county court.

Conclude Livestock Events At Fair; Plan Auto Races Saturday

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Major livestock events were concluded at the Illinois State Fair today, leaving an automobile race Saturday and motorcycle races Sunday to wind up the ten day exposition.

Bill Holland, 1949 Indianapolis Speedway winner, and other topnotch drivers are entered in the 100 mile automobile race sanctioned by the American Automobile Association.

The motorcycle races will feature a 25 mile national championship event.

Animals Win Ribbons
Owners of animals which picked up blue ribbons at the fair didn't get to show their prize stock in the traditional $2,000,000 livestock parade. Rain forced cancellation.

The swine judging ended with the Lynn Wood farm of Carmel, Ind., taking grand championships in Berkshire boar and sow classes. Another Indiana farm—Kaufman and Kaufman of Hillsdale—produced the grand champion Tanworth boar.

Among dairy cattle breeds, the entry of Jean D. Becker of Mason City, Ill., won the Polled Hereford.

HOME AFTER CHECKUP
Mrs. Jennie Underwood, 744 S. Church, returned home Saturday after undergoing a checkup at Barnes hospital in St. Louis. She was accompanied by Mrs. Sylvia Lacey of this city.

Pearls are sometimes formed around worms.

File Information
Lair was locked up at the county jail Friday morning the sheriff and Searls conferred with Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson after which the information was prepared.

Livestock Outlook Meeting Day Set For September 6

Winchester—Robert Slayton, Scott County Farm Adviser, announced Friday the Fall Livestock Outlook meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 6, at the Winchester American Legion building.

Discussing the prospects for cattle and hog prices will be Larry Simerl, marketing specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, and Edward Lamb, representative of the St. Louis Producers Cooperative Livestock Marketing association. Simerl will report on feed supplies, livestock numbers, and probable consumer demand for meat. Lamb will discuss available feeder cattle supplies and current trends on the cattle and hog markets.

More than 80 Scott county farmers headed by Mr. Simerl speak at a similar meeting last winter and an even larger turnout is expected for this important meeting. Some of the questions to be discussed are: Are cattle prices going to take another big drop as they did last year? How will the expected 15 per cent increase in market hogs this fall affect cattle prices? Will it be better to sell corn at about 40 cents below support price or store it for feeding?

Say Women Excel In Foot Ailments

Chicago, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Leave it to the women: not to do things by halves — there are 35 known ways to get sore feet and they excel in all 35.

This was reported today at the National Association of Chiropractors convention by Dr. L. A. Walsh of Wilmington, Del.

Women, he said, have about 15 times as many foot ailments as men. They also hold a two-to-one lead over men in wearing the worst possible shoes for their work.

Employees' sore feet cost American business close to a billion dollars a year, Dr. Walsh estimated after making a fool survey among employees of the DuPont corporation, Wilmington.

Two Girls Badly Hurt When Struck By Auto Near Virginia Square

Virginia—Two Virginia girls were seriously injured shortly after 5 p.m. Friday when they were struck by an automobile as they were crossing South Main street near the telephone office. After striking the girls, the automobile swerved to the left to collide with a parked C.I.P.S. truck. The driver, Glenn Stotts, of Beardstown, was being held in the Cass county jail last night pending a full investigation.

Patsy Lou Cave, nine year old daughter of Mrs. Emmett Revis, suffered a very severe head injury and a compound fracture of the left leg. She is not expected to recover.

Her companion, Sherrill Johnson, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, suffered a fracture of the left femur, a fracture of the pelvic girdle and lacerations to the scalp and face.

Her younger brother, Eddie Lee Johnson, was with the two girls, but he was not struck by the car. The injured girls were brought to Milton C. McClure, Cass county Our Saviour's Hospital in the Massie series ambulance and attended by Dr. Har-Stotts is reported to have swerved his northbound car to the left in an attempt to avoid hitting the children. It struck the C.I.P.S. truck parked on the west side of the street by Joe Loring, maintenance man for the Virginia area.

Sheriff Nick Long placed Stotts in custody after a preliminary investigation of the accident by him and State Highway Patrolman Fair.
